Film Analyst Revolutionizes the Way We Watch Movies

Chicago, IL—It's often been said that "Life is what you make of it." And now there's a book that illustrates the wisdom of that time-honored adage from a unique perspective, driving it home with an enlightening—and entertaining—approach.

In his second book, Consciously Created Cinema: The Movie Lover's Guide to the Law of Attraction (ISBN 978-1495976643, 2014, <http://booklaunch.io/brent%20marchant/consciously-created-cinema>), author and film analyst Brent Marchant shows how what we experience is a product of what we believe. By outlining the principles of "conscious creation" philosophy (also known as "the law of attraction") and illustrating them with examples from the world of film, Marchant provides a cinematic road map to understanding how the world around us arises from our personal worlds within.

This engaging topic, which the author initially addressed in his first book, Get the Picture?!: Conscious Creation Goes to the Movies (ISBN 978-1505570168, 2014, now available in an updated second edition, <http://booklaunch.io/brent%20marchant/get-the-picture>), receives expanded treatment in Consciously Created Cinema. In this title, Marchant builds upon a number of principles raised in his first book, embellishing them with further insights, and introduces several additional concepts to provide more detailed elaboration.

In addition to shedding light on how we view our world and how it materializes, conscious creation teaches us about valuable personal empowerment practices. At its core, the philosophy maintains that we “consciously,” rather than randomly, create our reality through our beliefs and intents. But being aware of those beliefs and intents is the key. Marchant says, “People often believe that most of what occurs in their lives happens to them. They’re quick to put the blame on fate or luck when something unpleasant occurs. But that can all be turned around. By employing the concepts of conscious creation and the law of attraction, we can change our worldview—and ourselves—for the better.”

One might ask what any of this has to do with movies. “Movies are much more significant than we give them credit for,” Marchant says. “From a conscious creation standpoint, movies often show us the principles of this philosophy at work. They can also serve as personal mirrors. When we witness a character’s triumphs (or mistakes) on screen and how they either learn (or don’t learn) from them, we have an opportunity to learn about ourselves. We can analyze how the character’s thoughts and actions influence the world they live in, and that, in turn, can provide us with insight into how our own worldviews create the world around us.”

In each of Consciously Created Cinema’s 13 chapters, Marchant introduces a particular conscious creation concept and then presents five movies that illustrate the concept in question. Drawing from a broad range of film genres for movies released between 2006 and 2012, the period after which Marchant released his first book, the author examines how their various story lines and characters can help us all become adept conscious creators.

Consciously Created Cinema is available in print and ebook formats from major online booksellers, including Amazon, Barnes & Noble, the iTunes Store and Kobo Books, among other retailers. Product Description:

Consciously Created Cinema: The Movie Lover's Guide to the Law of Attraction, the second book from author Brent Marchant, takes an inventive approach to a topic that's both enlightening and entertaining—how the world of film helps to illustrate how we create the world we experience. Marchant's singular perspective on the subjects of movies and “conscious creation” (also known as “the law of attraction”) offers readers an engaging, practical look at these topics and the complementary relationship between them for explaining how our reality comes into being. By citing examples from genres as diverse as comedies, dramas, science fiction and even documentaries, the author acts as a cinematic tour guide to the mystery and magic of how we manifest our existence.

Consciously Created Cinema

The Movie
Lover's Guide to the Law of Attraction

Brent Marchant

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

“Consciously Created Cinema” Receives Widespread Support and Endorsement

Chicago, IL—Author and film analyst Brent Marchant is pleased to announce that his second book, Consciously Created Cinema: The Movie Lover's Guide to the Law of Attraction (ISBN 978-1495976643, 2014, <http://booklaunch.io/brent%20marchant/consciously-created-cinema>), has received widespread support and endorsement from a variety of luminaries in the film and metaphysics/New Age communities, as well as from many fellow authors. The book is available in print and ebook formats from all major online retailers, including Amazon, Barnes & Noble, the iTunes Store and Kobo Books.

Marchant's release examines how the principles of “conscious creation” (also known as “the law of attraction”) are illustrated through film. The book thus provides readers with an enlightening—and entertaining—way to learn how this empowering approach to life works. And now others in the know about these subjects have offered their takes on how Marchant's book effectively addresses these subjects.

Here is what others have to say:

“Understanding the world before our eyes requires us to first understand the world behind them, how our thoughts, intents and beliefs function to create the reality we each experience. How we go about that is the subject of Brent Marchant's inventive new book, Consciously Created Cinema: The Movie Lover's Guide to the Law of Attraction, which effectively illustrates the process at work through contemporary film. Whether you're a movie lover looking for inspiring cinema, a truth seeker in search of enlightening examples to follow, or both, you're sure to find a wealth of useful, perspective-changing ideas in this engaging new book."

"If you love movies and have even an inkling of interest in self-awareness and the meaning of your life beyond just simple existence, like I do, then Brent Marchant's book, Consciously Created Cinema, is an absolute must read and a great reference tool—not only to learn about, and from, movies that matter, but also to learn something deeper and more profound about yourself. Read this book, watch every film he discusses, and I promise you will emerge from the experience a deeper, brighter and better person."

"People v. The State of Illusion"

"In this book, Brent Marchant provides a spiritual road map to fully embracing the movie experience and its relevance in modern-day life. In our breakneck-paced society, movie watching gets us to slow down for an hour or two, forget our troubles, spend time with friends and family, and, most importantly, to use our imaginations and engage our consciousness.

"In the larger sense, Brent's film essays are about the intersection of the art form of the motion picture and process of how human beings are exploring the mystery of who we truly are and why we are here and alive. Consciously Created Cinema goes farther and deeper than his first book, Get the Picture, in helping us to appreciate how movies have become the primary culturally shared practice showing us the dreams, visions, nightmares and longings that are the human experience.

"Consciously Created Cinema is an important and seminal work on motion pictures that I hope will be referred to for a long time to come by the movie lover, the movie writer and the spiritual explorer looking to expand their mind while being entertained."

"I'm thankful that someone like Brent is actually looking at what lies beneath the glittering flashes of light, as much more is communicated with the nuance of symbology, story, color and sound than what a viewer first recognizes. A feeling state precipitates all cognition, and a good filmmaker knows how to work this in their medium. We do not need another person telling us how to live our lives; we require personal realization that comes from authentic and honest depictions of new thought. I appreciate Brent pointing us to these films."

"In Consciously Created Cinema, author Brent Marchant eloquently illustrates how the art of contemporary cinema reflects the subtle concepts and forces (such as the much-touted 'law of attraction') that are embroiled in the momentous shift in human development that's now occurring. By combining his love for the cinematic arts with his profound knowledge of the esoteric and metaphysical literature that describes our shifting mentality, he has produced a book that is both reassuring and motivational for the reader. Collectively, the films profiled in this book can be viewed (metaphorically and literally) as the current state of play in our game of 'awakening' to an altogether more altruistic approach to life."

"Just as we have the opportunity on an individual level to recognize how the laws of creation are manifesting in our personal lives, Brent is able to brilliantly do so within the construct of the movies. Consciously Created Cinema: The Movie Lover's Guide to the Law of Attraction provides another tool to empower us in the quest of understanding how we create our reality. “I overheard a grownup say once, ‘Well, it depends on how you look at it.’ Fascinated, I turned that over and over in my little boy mind and still couldn’t figure it out. What is it, anyway? Now Brent Marchant comes to my (and our) rescue. As I read his book (go slow, by the way), I realized that I was not only seeing movies I thought I had already seen a long time ago in a new light, I was being helped to see my life in a new light as well. It really does depend on how you look at it, and the it is the joy of feeling like a powerful creator or feeling like a victim.

“If you read Brent’s book, as he recommends, in order, you’ll get that he is taking you on a guided meditation, which will help you to internalize the principles of conscious creation, not just read about them. Of course, another joy of this book is that you will discover movies you had never heard of that you’re now desperate to put on your Netflix queue. So you can use this book to change your view of life, or just to read some provocative movie reviews. It all depends on you!”

Marchant siphons the chaff from the wheat for film buffs who want not only good entertainment but also relevant insight into how the law of attraction works. “Having been in broadcasting for 35 years, I’ve seen a lot of changes, such as the rise of ‘on-demand’ everything. And, in light of that development, to have Consciously Created Cinema: The Movie Lovers Guide to the Law of Attraction available as a resource is absolutely fantastic. To be able to call up any movie from the 13 categories in the book on any of the Internet on-demand services, and then watch something that can inspire, uplift and encourage, is one of the most incredible opportunities each one of us has as a spiritual being on this planet. I can watch what I want when I want and find the kinds of movies that will coincide with my life's choices and purpose. And, ever since I discontinued cable and satellite services (making me subject to the whims of the networks), I have seen more movies and documentaries that I had never heard of before, films that really opened my eyes to even more 'new paradigms for a new world.' So, whether you get this book for yourself or for someone else, what an incredible gift it will be."

"Brent Marchant bestows another gift on cinemaphiles with his 2014 release, Consciously Created Cinema: The Movie Lover's Guide to the Law of Attraction. As he did for films pre-2007 in Get the Picture?!: Conscious Creation Goes to the Movies, Marchant covers plot summaries, relevant conscious creation themes and full cinemagraphic details, including notations and major awards, on over 60 movies released 2006-2012. Each chapter opens with a thoughtful examination of a theme, ranging from 'Faith and Beliefs' to 'Integrity' and 'Transformation.' With a thoughtful approach to the many underlying tenets of conscious creation, Consciously Created Cinema provides readers with many insights on how they can learn from the films examined, and, with Marchant's delightful writing and humor, every movie lover will find something new to ponder about their favorite, or perhaps previously undiscovered, films. Students in film studies will find this title and Marchant's previous work to be extremely valuable in their research of contemporary films."

"Brent Marchant has the brilliant and unique talent of being able to show how films are able to tap into experiences that set examples of what viewers can do to attract the life they desire. His new book, Consciously Created Cinema: The Movie Lover's Guide to the Law of Attraction, magically draws upon films to explain how probabilities, quantum physics, science and metaphysics are melded to create the reality their characters experience, even when they don't realize it. His book reveals how it's about time movies have begun exploring what is really going on in the lives of their characters, conditions that might also be found in the scientific and spiritual, physical and metaphysical realms of viewers. This book may help readers and moviegoers see beyond the cinematic experience and into the next realm, relating how to solve their problems through the use of the law of attraction and the power of imagination."

"Consciously Created Cinema: The Movie Lover's Guide to the Law of Attraction by Brent Marchant is an excellent book for those who want to see the deeper meaning behind many popular movies. A fascinating book for cinema lovers and those who want to know more about the Law of Attraction.

"The cover is amazing. Very creative. I like the colors and how the eye's pupil is a camera lens. The back cover copy is excellent. The blurb tells the reader the book's purpose. The author photo is great, and the author biography tells the reader why Brent Marchant is uniquely qualified to write this book. I like that he also shares where to find him online, and even his email address. I hope he doesn't get too overwhelmed by his IN box!

"Inside, page after page of endorsements really are impressive. I like that the chapters are well laid out, showing the reader which movies are being covered. The reader can choose to read the book in sequence, by the movie, or by the subject such as "Perspective" and "Change." I thought the entry on "The Social Network" under The Power of Belief was especially good. This is a great book to present as a gift to the movie lover. The unique and thoughtful perspective will be appreciated.

"All in all, a great book that skillfully covers the topics. Nice work."
